TAIL OF MIGHTY SKY WANDERER DRAWING CLOSE

As Boston, New York and other cities of the world planned today to make to-morrow evening and the week-end a comet gala occasion, it was announced at Harvard Observatory that the tail of the celestial visitor is lengthening and spreading in fan shape, which insures that the earth will pass through the tail about 5,000,000 miles from its extreme end.

Professor David Todd of Amherst to-day said that the earth may be in the comets tail now. Most of the astronomers figure, however, that the earth will begin to enter the tail at 11:20 to-morrow night.

ALL SAY THE EARTH ISN'T IN DANGER.
Professor Wendell of Harvard said that it might be possible to catch sight of the tail end of the comet as it might be seen, but the chances were that it would not be clear enough.
All the students of the heavens agree that there will be no danger to the earth from the comet. Many comet parties are being arranged all over the world. The people have manifested little if any fear of the flaming visitor and his further appearance will be utilized as an opportunity.

ROLLINS' SIX OTHER TRUNKS ARE SEARCHED

NEW YORK, May 17.—The remaining six pieces of baggage belonging to Edward Frank West Rollins of New Hampshire, which were seized on Friday when he arrived with his wife and son on the Lusitania and sent to the Public House, with the three which were opened on the Sunday pier, were yesterday examined by the appraisers, and the value of their contents made known today.
One of the officials at the Custom House said that the trunks opened at the Public House contained women's gowns and various articles, in addition to suits of men's clothing, which were found to be of value.

BRANDEIS HAS CLERK KERBY ON THE STAND

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Frederick W. Kerby, the former stenographer of the Department of the Interior, who was yesterday denounced by Secretary Ballinger for having charged that Assistant Attorney General Lawler had really written the letter which it was claimed President Taft had written exonerating Secretary Ballinger in the Canabian Alaska coal case, was called to the witness stand by Attorney Brandeis in the Ballinger-DeLoach investigation today.

It was expected that Kerby's testimony would be sensational and all in the room listened closely.

President's Letter on Record

When the committee next Chairman Nelson laid before the members the President's letter written Saturday night explaining the circumstances under which he had exonerated Secretary Ballinger, the request of Attorney Brandeis, Mr. Kerby's full statement together with the letter, were placed in the record. When Kerby was asked to read the letter, Secretary Ballinger started out at once to explain to the committee. Brandeis, former Secretary of the Interior, said that the letter had inspired Kerby's statement.

Explains the Statement

Kerby then proceeded to make the statement which he had read Saturday. He said that about the time of the President's letter exonerating Secretary Ballinger, he had told Kerby, Hugh A. Brown, formerly secretary to Secretary Garfield, that he had been practically written in Mr. Ballinger's office. Later he had been called on by newspaper correspondents.

THIS DEVICE MARKS ABILITY TO WORK

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—The University of Pennsylvania has a machine called the orograph, an unpretentious looking apparatus, designed to measure the movements of a thumb attached to a lever, and as arranged to measure the movements of the thumbpiece on a piece of sandpaper that is stretched over a cylinder. It is to be used to study the movements of joints of a second; the machine does the rest.

FAST TRAILING VIEWS DON'T BODY

LONDON, May 17.—While the body of King Edward lay in state this afternoon a crowd of 15,000 looked through the cordons of police and troops about Westminster Hall, and tried to rush into the court yard of the House of Parliament nearby. Reinforcements quelled the riot after several women had fainted and a score of men had been injured.

75,000 WILL VIEW BODY, LYING IN STATE.

With solemn pageantry which drew upon the royalty of Europe for its actors, the body of the King was borne through the streets of London from Buckingham Palace to historic Westminster Hall. There began the farewell of the people of the empire to their beloved monarch, unbroken lines of people filing past and making obeisance at the royal casket. Today's ceremonies are second only to those of the funeral on Friday. Till then the body will lie at Westminster Hall. In that time it is expected that more than 75,000 will pass by the oak and lead that encase the monarch's body.

Crowds Gather Before Dawn.

Before dawn the crowds began to gather. Hours before the time for the start of the procession the streets were crowded with solid banks of humanity for miles upon miles. A soldier, closely at the funeral of the King, lay in state. Through the body of the King, the black masses of spectators flung with close ranks of unscrutinized soldiers, formed one of the most impressive spectacles London has ever seen.

King George rode behind his father's coffin with his sons at his side, the Duke of Cornwall and Prince Albert. Then came foreign Kings, Princes of Denmark, and Princes of Norway, brother-in-law and son-in-law, respectively, of Edward. With them was the Duke of Connaught, brother of the late ruler.

Behind these Kings came other Princes, all of them, walking four and three abreast. Among them were the Duke of Teck, Prince Louis of Battenberg, the Duke of Devon, the Duke of Argyll, Prince Francis of Teck, Prince Alexander of Battenberg, Prince of Wales, Prince George of Greece, Prince of Monaco, and Prince of Bulgaria.

In the first row the Queen Mother, Alexandra, as she was known, followed. She was the first of a long line of royal figures. The second row was made up of the royal households of the various European monarchs.

REGULARS JOIN AGAINST FIGHT ON INSURGENTS

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17.—The administration leaders in the Senate have again pulled themselves together after their surrender to the insurgents on the long and short haul amendment to the railroad bill. The insurgents today are that they would be able to force the amendment through the Senate by the use of the filibuster.

As both the House and the Senate have voted to keep that section in the bill, it will remain as one of the features of the measure, and one for which President Taft and his advisers have strongly contended. Today's issue between the regulars and the progressives, the amendment to strike out the provision by which the Department of Justice is to defend the decision of the commission upon appeals caused several conferences today. It was hardly likely that the insurgents would be any more successful in respect to this amendment than they were with the Court of Commerce amendment.

The leaders hope to have the bill practically completed by the end of the week and ready for the final vote. After the pending amendment is disposed of, they will remain little over where there is likely to be serious controversy. The proposed modification of the capitalization feature.

Those who stood by the bill as submitted by Chairman Mark of the Senate and Foreign Commerce Committee, say that the President's influence will show itself after the bill gets into conference with the House. CITY GUARD TO AFFILIATE WITH BOY SCOUTS

Based on the part of some people that the City Guard, already established, is in conflict with the American Boy Scout movement, Professor Frank O. Carpenter, who founded the Guard, Professor Carpenter emphatically declares that the Guard does not conflict in any way with the American Boy Scouts; on the other hand, the Scout movement fills a need that is desirable as a part of the Boston plan to improve the boys in every way possible.

Professor Carpenter said today: "The American Boy Scout movement makes use of the boys' innate love of the military in developing his mentally, morally and physically. This is a good thing. I see no reason why the government should not become established in our schools in Boston."

The principles underlying the movement for the City Guard are in harmony with the City Guard. There is no conflict between the two. The City Guard is a military organization, and the City Guard is a military organization.

Weak Over-worked Women

Who are broken down and made invalids by the drudgery of never ending household cares and duties, or by over-frequent bearing and nursing of children, and many other cares, burdens and strains which the weaker sex have to bear, are deserving of profound sympathy. But, while sympathy is commendable what these unfortunate women most need is a good, honest, square-deal Restorative Tonic and Strength-giving Nerve and Regulator—one compounded and carefully adapted to act in harmony with woman's peculiar, delicate, ever sensitive organization.

Who so well fitted to select, carefully proportion the ingredients and compound a remedy for the cure of these distressing and often pain-wracking weaknesses and derangements, as the carefully and thoroughly educated and regularly graduated physician who has had a long and successful experience in treating just this class of cases.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

THIS MEDICINE IS

THE ONE REMEDY Now, and for over 40 years, sold by druggists for Woman's Peculiar Weaknesses, and Distressing Affections, gotten up by one having all of the above qualifications.

THE ONE REMEDY which absolutely contains neither alcohol (which is most Women is rank poison) nor injurious or habit-forming drugs.

THE ONE REMEDY which is so perfect in its composition and so good in its curative effects as to warrant its makers in printing its every ingredient, as they do, on its outside wrapper, verifying the same under solemn oath.

In all the above most important particulars, the "Favorite Prescription" stands absolutely alone—in a class all by itself—as woman's most reliable and trust-worthy remedy in time of sickness and distress. A pure glyceric extract made from American curative roots, found by long time experience most valuable in curing woman's weaknesses and derangements. The leaders in all schools of medical practice have endorsed each of its ingredients as of the best known remedies for the complicated affections for which it is recommended. These professional endorsements should count for far more than any number of lay testimonials. A booklet full of them sent free on receipt of name and address. JEFF CALLS OFF ALL TRAINING FOR THE DAY

JEFFRIES' TRAINING CAMP, Rowardennan, Gal., May 17.—Jeffries frequently changes his mind about his course of training. He had planned to-day to bag with his brother, Jack. Instead, he pulled on gum boots, swung fishing bag and trout pole across his shoulder, and left camp for a half-day's fishing.

The old reason that he believed that his condition is already nearly right, but it is more likely that he is taking every precaution to minimize another attack of boils, which had come upon him.

In spite of his threatened affliction, Jeff was in good mental and physical spirits, and worked with plenty of ginger as a bag penning, rope skipping, shadow boxing and handball player. In the new ball game he was pitted against Jeff in the handball game in the person of Jack Kipper, his business partner from Angeles. Kipper played with Tom Boyer, and lost a close game to the big fellow.
